

NON VINTAGE CHAMPAGNE

Champagne is probably the region that needs no introduction. Though sales at the lower end have been knocked by the popularity of Prosecco and, it has to be said, English sparkling wine, Champagne remains the wine of choice for most of our celebrations and festivities.

PORT/ MADEIRA

We have a good range of Ports in the various different styles, with a selection of vintage Ports available on request – including the highly regarded 2016 vintage. There is also an upsurge of interest in white port. Served cold or over ice it has developed a following, especially in the younger generation. Madeira continues to have a small following, but as the ideal way to end an enjoyable meal it is well worth promoting.

CIDER

Hogan's mission is 'to invite curious folk to taste proper cider' and their award-winning range has become a benchmark for cider lovers throughout the country. Based in the Malven Hills, this independent cider maker uses 100% pressed English cider apples sourced from small local growers. The dry and medium ciders have proved extremely popular with customers and so we have recently added 'High Sobriety'. At just 1% abv, this is a low-alcohol cider that tastes amazingly good and is well worth trying.

BEER

The award-winning craft beers of the Shotover Brewing Company have quickly become established alongside long term favourite Hook Norton. This year we have also looked carefully at our range of non-alcoholic and gluten free beers. Following an extensive tasting we feel confident in recommending Beck's Blue and Peroni Gluten Free as products that don't compromise on the flavour and character.

LUSCOMBE DRINKS, Devon

Luscombe have been making organic drinks on Domesday Farm in Devon for 25 years. They source premium organic ingredients from trusted growers around the world and combine this with local organic fruit and their own Devon spring water. The result is a fabulous range of tonics and fruit drinks where the quality really shows through.
